Spirit of the English Press.

The extraordinary position assumed by the Government on the Reform Bill has elicited more or less comment from all the English journals, and has awakened among the advocates of Manhood Suffrage renewed hope that the darling object of their fierce and determined agitation is about to be attained. The truth is that the Doryites who rejected Gladstone's Bill a year ago because it was "too liberal," have fairly beaten the Russell Ministry in the Radical race, and have consented to amendment after amendment in Committee of the Whole until the Bill, shorn of its most objectionable features, is more the offspring of the party who came in pledged to oppose its passage than it is that of Mr Disraeli. The father, in this case, must experience much difficulty in recognizing his own bantering. The acceptance of the amendments has, in truth, spared the Government an ignominious defeat. Speaking of the last great concession by the Chancellor of the Exchequer, the Times says: "It was practically determined last night that henceforth within the limits of parliamentary boroughs—and it is only of parliamentary boroughs we speak—the Compound Householder shall not dwell. The Gordian knot has been cut. The formidable personage whose existence has been a spring of trouble, and a threatening occasion of evasions which, could we believe the inflated language of busy agitators, would be properly described as Titanic, has been effaced from our path. Mr Hodgkinson yesterday proposed, as a 'rider' to the clause defining the future qualifications of the borough voter, a proviso that no person other than the occupier should henceforth be rated within the limits of a parliamentary borough. Mr Gladstone supported the amendment as one which would make the rule of enfranchisement uniform, though he regretted the necessity of the change it would bring about. The Chancellor of the Exchequer, speaking for the Government, declared that Mr Hodgkinson's Amendment embodied the complete scheme of the Ministry, and they had only refrained from bringing it forward themselves from fear of the opposition it might excite." The Daily News says that "Mr Disraeli, though he may have gone beyond the scope of his followers' ideas, has certainly not exceeded the limits of the principle which he has laid down as the basis of the franchise, namely, rating and the personal payment of rates. But when every occupier is rated, and under obligation to pay his rates, this principle amounts in practice to household suffrage, pure and simple, save in the case of defaulters, those locomotive persons whom not even the most thorough-going Radicals desire to enfranchise. If the Conservative party is satisfied with a phrase, the Liberal party may well be content with the substance of their demands. They have never asked for more, than that all occupiers in parliamentary boroughs should have the same electoral privileges as those which the Reform Act of 1832 conferred on £10 occupiers; and this Mr Disraeli has conceded. The Manchester Examiner is "thankful for the result," but thinks "it might have been attained in a more creditable way. To light by mere haphazard upon a policy which will certainly revolutionize our representative system, is unworthy of the dignity of the Legislature. We owe this scandal, for such it may justly be deemed, to the finessing, tentative, fast-and-loose strategy of the Government. Mr Disraeli ought to have shown more candour in dealing with a question of such transcendent importance. His 'original policy' included household suffrage without the compound rating check, he ought to have told the House so. He had no business to keep his thoughts to himself. His responsibility as the Minister primarily chargeable with the revision of the constitution should have led him to take the House into his confidence on the most vital part in the scheme. The excuse he offers for his silence is simply puny. He was afraid of the Opposition. Most people will suspect that his fears lay nearer home. He was afraid of his own followers, who would have been terrified by the breadth of his proposals. It required all his ingenuity to get those simple fishes into the net. Not till they were rate-payers could he venture to sing out, 'You are caught!' He has displayed the most consummate skill in managing his own party, though it is a sort of skill that redounds rather to the triumph of the tactician than the honor of the man." The debate on Mr. Mill's proposal to extend the suffrage to females is variously treated by the press; but all parties agree that the proposer's speech was very eloquent and forcible, although slightly illogical in some points. A bill to consolidate the Courts of Admiralty and Probate, and both under a Chief Justice and two Puisne Judges, two of whom will be available for the purpose of going circuit, having passed the House of Lords, the Pall Mall Gazette welcomes the Bill as necessary, and hopes it will go through the Lower House without material amendment; The Times says the "business of the Courts has increased so greatly as to render it impossible for the present limited number of Judges to get through with all the cases before them, and that the delays in many instances amount to a 'denial of justice.' The Globe states that Disraeli, by his remarkable concessions on the question of Reform, has taken away from Gladstone and Bright their stock-in-trade. It says:—"Gladstone and Bright are now but the leaders of a guerrilla band; men too deeply dyed in faction to submit to the triumph of their opponents, and who will seek to vex the victors, though they cannot impede the triumph of their measure. A fortnight ago we advised the Liberal chiefs to consider well what they were about, and not to persevere in a fanatical opposition to the Bill, which opposition would not succeed, and would cover its authors with confusion. We advised them to make peace with their adversary while they were in the way, lest a worse thing should befall them in the end. We told them it was high time to turn about and praise the Bill, and try to make 'political capital' out of it, by boldly alleging that it owed its goodness all to them. But we counseled in vain. Messrs. Gladstone and Bright have continued to denounce the Bill as one which could not even be mended—as odious, fraudulent, intolerable. And yet, it is now clear, this very Bill will soon be law, and will pass its third reading in the House by acclamation." The Times of May 10, "cannot affect to regret Mr. Walpole's resignation. He will carry with him into private life the esteem and goodwill of all parties, and it may be that hereafter he may in some other post serve the country with advantage. An excellent, amiable, and honorable man, but with little judgment, and with a sensitiveness now hardened into obstinacy, now melting into feebleness, he took upon himself an office which, more than any other, requires calmness of temper and penetration of judgment. It cost too much to keep such a man in such a place." The Daily News of the same date "recognizes the perfect purity and integrity of a statesman whose faults were only virtues in excess, and who never erred but on the side of gentleness and goodness; who was sometimes too scrupulous perhaps, or too austere, but always high-minded, always kind-hearted, always speaking and acting with the singleness and simplicity of purpose of an honest Christian gentleman."

Justicia.

ENTRIES COLONIST:—I beg to state that it is by mistake that the article signed "Nux Vomica" in the Morning News of Sunday has been attributed to me, and that I am not the author. The article is a good one, and the efforts of "Justicia" (read Justitia) to combine turgid bombastic language with bad syntax struck me at the time as laughable enough; but then I had been told that "Justitia" was a doctor, and it is not always very safe for a person who signs his name to meddle with that freight race. The criticism which appeared in your columns some six weeks ago upon the Medical Bill has had the honor of republication elsewhere; but here it elicited nothing but an anonymous, abusive libel, so grossly personal, that the then editor of the Morning News, after publishing a portion of it, as he apologetically said, out of consideration for the "medical gentleman of high standing and many attainments" who communicated it, declared the remainder to be unfit for publication! In short if such articles as those signed "Justicia" and "Anti-Claptrap" are to be considered as specimens of the literary production of our doctors, it must be confessed that their literary attainments are beneath all criticism. The following private dispatch was received at San Francisco:

The Religious Festival at Rome.
ROME, June 29.—There are many arrivals of prelates and laymen, 450 Archbishops and Bishops, with about 30,000 clergymen and members of different religious orders in the Eternal City. From the United States was noticed Archbishops Kinnick, Odin, Pusey, Bishop Wood, with 22 Bishops from other American Dioceses. When the Pope received the American prelates and clergy, they presented him with $200,000 in gold coin, also a model of the American yacht Henrietta, in silver. The yacht was laden with gold pieces to the amount of $50,000, contributed by the people of the Archdiocesan Province of Cincinnati. Lifting the model from the case, His Holiness said with a gracious smile, "Non cum rapido" (It is not all vapour)—alluding to the golden cargo. His Holiness had by old piecemeal words to say to the American present and absent. He complimented them on their progress, religious and civil, and spoke in the highest terms of Gen. R. R. King, the United States Minister to Rome.

New York, June 30.—The Herald of Rome special says the commencement of the celebration of the eighteenth centenary of St. Peter's martyrdom and St. Paul's birthday, and the canonization of 25 French and Spanish martyrs in Japan, as saints, was one of the most gorgeous ceremonies witnessed in the world since the days of King Solomon. The observances commenced with a general illumination of the city. St. Peter's Church seemed like a great church on fire. At 7 a.m., a grand procession of prelates, priests, monks and soldiers from the Vatican to St. Peter's began. The Pope was carried on his throne to St. Peter's, which was magnificently decorated in cloth of gold, silver, tapestries, paintings, and 200,000 yards of crimson silk. The building was lighted with many millions of wax candles, and one hundred thousand people were inside the church, including the ex-King of Naples, 500 Cardinals and Archbishops, and many thousand clergymen, priests, monks, nuns and soldiers, from all parts of the world. The Pope celebrated the Gregorian Mass in Latin and Greek. Two intermissions occurred—one when the curtains of one of the windows took fire; it was promptly extinguished. A man became crazed by the splendour and cut his throat. The Pope at once reconsecrated the church, stained with the blood of a suicide. Listz composed extra music for the Grand Mass, which was accompanied by a chorus in the dome of St. Peter's, and cannon at the castle of St. Angelo. The observances will continue under a Chief Justice and two

SPECIAL TO THE DAILY BRITISH COLONIST

LAST NIGHT'S DESPATCHES

Eastern States.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—The report of the Conference Committee on the Reconstruction Bill was agreed to. The Reconstruction Bill, as passed, is as follows:

Section 1. Declares it to be the true intent of the Act of March 2d, 1867, that the civil courts of the rebel States (Tennessee excepted) are not legal, and it continued should be subject to military commanders and the paramount authority of Congress.

Section 4. It is the duty of the district commander to remove from office all disloyal persons, or those who hinder reconstruction.

Sec. 6. Declares the Act to apply to all members of any State Legislature, or persons holding Executive or Judicial office in any State who engaged in rebellion or gave aid and comfort to the enemies of the Government.

Sec. 7. No person shall be entitled to registry by reason of an Executive pardon or amnesty.

Sec. 8. The commanders all have authority subject to the approval of the General of the army to remove or suspend any civil or military officer, and to appoint any person to perform the duties of the officer so removed subject to the disapproval of the General of the army. Other sections refer to registration and appointments.

DETROIT, July 13.—The State Supreme Court has decided that telegraph companies are not responsible for errors in the transmission of messages unless the terms of the printed blanks are complied with respecting repeated messages, insurances, etc. They are not regarded as common carriers.

California.

SAN FRANCISCO, 14th July.—The captain of the barque Constitution, which arrived yesterday from Port Gamble, reports having been visited at sea by a boat from the brig Anna Sanderson on the 11th of July. The brig was ninety-one days out from Sydney and had run short of provisions. The captain of the bark supplied their wants.

The Bianchi Opera Troupe sail for Portland on the next steamer. They propose to give a series of operatic performances at Portland and Salem, and will probably go to Victoria.

DELAYED DISPATCHES.

It seems certain that the House will order the Judiciary Committee to report on the impeachment question, when a recess will be asked until October.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—In the Surratt trial, Professor Eastman, of the National Observatory testified that the moon did not rise on the night of the assassination until after ten o'clock. At 11 o'clock it was cloudy and the moon could not have illuminated the north side of any building that night. O'Brien testified to the same effect. Several witnesses impeached the character of John Lee, one of the witnesses for the prosecution. Merrick offered the record of trial and conviction of Cleaver, and another witness, but Carrington objected to its admission on the ground that a new trial had been granted in their case.

The following private dispatch was received at San Francisco:

New York, July 9.—To Mr. I. W. Raymond, Agent: The steamer Rising Star is guaranteed on account of yellow fever at Aspinwall and Panama.

(Signed) CHARLES P. DANA, Vice-Pres't.

The Rising Star took passengers by the Golden Age on the 10th of June.

The United States Fire Extinguishing Company's apparatus was tried last night with great success at the Union Square.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—Union Hall was crowded to overflowing last evening, on the occasion of the Democrats holding their ratification meeting, and it is said that many were unable to get into the Hall. General Cazneau called the meeting to order, and Col. J. P. Hoge was chosen chairman. On taking the chair, Col. Hoge made a brief speech, in which he named the object of the meeting to do publicly what had already been done in all their hearts, to ratify the Democratic nomination. He urged them all to support the ticket, as one well worthy of their support. Every man on it was worthy of public confidence, and no political juggling had anything to do with their nominations.

The Pacific Mail Steamship Sacramento sailed for Panama to-day with about the usual number of passengers and $1,533,668 in treasure.

Orders have been received from the War Department at Washington, revoking the order assigning Brevet Major G. T. Hoyt, Assistant Quartermaster, to duty at the Department of Dacotah. Gen. Hallock has directed that he be retained in his present duties here.

The Western Union Telegraph Company has declared a dividend of 22 per cent. on their capital stock, payable on and after the 15th instant.

The regular tri-yearly dividend of one dollar per share on the outstanding stock of the California State Telegraph Company is now due, and will be paid on and after Monday next.

NEW ORLEANS, July 2.—A Monterey letter states that previous to the execution of Maximilian he was stripped entirely naked. Escobero presented him with a shirt to cover his nakedness.

CHARLESTON, July 2.—A freedman has applied to the Secretary of War for a cadetship at West Point, from the First District of South Carolina.

The order closing saloons was enforced to-day.

NEW YORK, July 3.—A Rio Janeiro special of June 28th, via cable, says that the man the Paraguayan troops attacked the allied camp on May 21st, with a Republican loss.

A despatch says the New Orleans City Comptroller has refused to pay salaries to municipal officers appointed by Governor Flanders. This refusal is made on the strength of the Attorney General's opinion. Thus the issue is made between the displaced officials and Sheridan.

Boodle's and Crook's Clubs.

Boodle's is chiefly frequented by country gentlemen, whose status has been thus satirically insinuated by a contemporary: "Every Sir John belongs to Boodle's as you may see, when a waiter comes into the room and says to some aged student of the Morning Herald, 'Sir John, your servant is come,' every head is mechanically thrown up to the address." Captain Gronow relates that some gentlemen of both White's and Brooks's had on one occasion the honor to dine with the Prince Regent. Compromising the members of these clubs for the monotony of their fare at dinner, his Royal Highness summoned his cook, Watier, or the spot to ask him if he would take a house and organize a dinner club. Watier assented, and hence the club which bore his name, Macao was played at Watier's to a ruinous extent, and "the club" according to Mr Raikes, "did not endure for twelve years altogether; the pace was too quick to last, it died a natural death in 1819 from the paralyzed state of its members; the house was then taken by a set of blacklegs, who introduced a common bank for gambling. To form an idea of the ruin produced by this short-lived establishment among men whom I have so intimately known, a cursory glance to the past suggests a melancholy list, which only forms a part of its deplorable results. None of the dead reached the average age of man. One evening at the Macao table, when the play was very deep, Brummell, having lost a considerable stake, affected, in his facetious way, a very tragic air, and cried out, 'Watier, bring me a tall candlestick and a pistol.' Upon which Bligh (a notorious madman, and one of the members of Watier's), who was sitting opposite to him, calmly produced two loaded pistols from his coat-pocket, which he placed on the table, and said, 'Mr Brummell, if you are really desirous to put a period to your existence, I am extremely happy to offer you the means, without troubling the waiters.' The effect upon those present may easily be imagined, at finding themselves in the company of a known madman who had loaded weapons about him." Crook's Club, also noted for its belligerent Congress, nor a disengaged people, have been powerful enough to do royal man's satisfaction in him. He did not look burdened, nor weary, nor disengaged, nor sick. His step was strong, and confident, and slow; there seemed to be no pressure of public care, nor of official duty behind it. A smile brightened the clogged lines of his face. Unharmonious and passionate, in his happier moments it is not an unkind face, nor that it is easy to believe wholly untrue. And those who knew him well declare that, though prejudiced and obstinate to the last degree, Andrew Johnson is not dishonest. He was dressed like a gentleman of leisure, with a scrupulous nice, in itself sufficient to attract attention. To me his gaunt, grand predecessor walked by his side. How different in his uncouth costume from this elegantly attired gentleman, gloved, caned, his iron gray hair rolled smoothly under, walking placidly on the green grass under the trees!

THE RICHARDSON MINE.—The Rochester Express has the following with regard to the four barrels of matter which were taken some time ago from the Richardson mine at Madoc, and seized at Charlotte by Mr. Harding, of Boston, who claims possession of the mine:—Fabulous stories were told of the value of this mud and quartz, an accurate neighbor putting the figures at $100,000 or over. But we made no mention of the case, preferring to wait an investigation upon the valuation of the articles seized. Samples have been given to competent assayers, who yesterday concluded their test, and report that the mud yields one grain of gold to the pound, and that the yield of the quartz will be the same, or all, wing for wasteage, $250 per ton. The total weight of the quartz and mud is 1,812 pounds, and consequently the value of the whole is about $225. This is in paying quantities, and if the mud did come from the Richardson mine, and has not been salted (that is, fixed up by preparation, as was the custom in oiling) the mine will pay to work. It will not pay at the usury our correct neighbor gives, viz., $2 per ton!

Melancholy Accident at Esquimalt.

Last evening, just as the steamship Idaho from San Francisco had cast off her lines, a lamentable accident occurred to an old and respected citizen. It appears that Messrs. Bushby, Mansell and Jones left Victoria in a two-horse buggy for the steamer, shortly before six o'clock, with Government despatches, which was important should go forward yesterday. The hour for the departure of the steamer having arrived, the captain was asked to delay until the despatchers should reach Esquimalt. After some persuasion he consented to remain five minutes beyond the time fixed for his departure, and Mr. John T. Pidwell, who was mounted on a fleet horse, dashed spurs into the animal's side and darted off towards the road with the expressed desire of meeting the buggy and "hurrying it along." The wind was blowing fresh from the south, raising a cloud of dust in the street and rendering it difficult to discern objects for any great distance. Just as Mr. Pidwell had reached the Esquimalt Road at the point where it intersects with the main street of Esquimalt, the buggy with the despatchers turned the corner. The driver of the buggy—Mr. W. G. Bowman—having his back towards the wind, and his vision consequently unobstructed, turned his horses to the side of the road to avoid coming in contact with Mr. Pidwell, who having one hand aised to keep his hat from blowing off was unable to see the danger, and was riding at full speed directly upon him; but the precaution was of no avail. The side of Mr. Pidwell's horse struck the pole of Mr. Bowman's carriage with great violence, breaking the pole, and shattering the front part of the carriage. The horse fell, and poor Mr. Pidwell was thrown out of the saddle with great violence, and his head, coming in contact with one of the front wheels of the carriage, was fractured in a most shocking manner. Mr. Bowman, who acted with great presence of mind throughout, leaped from his carriage and succeeded in preventing his own horse from running away, and thereby saved his passengers from at least serious injury. Mr. Bowman escaped with a few bruises. The unfortunate gentleman was rescued from the wreck and carried into Mr. John T. Howard's place, where he received immediate attention from Drs. Ash, Haggard and Trimble, but he never spoke after the accident, and after breathing faintly for about an hour, he passed quietly away, just as his afflicted wife, who had been summoned from the city, reached his bedside. Mr. Pidwell, in his dying moments, received every attention at the hands of his medical attendants, and at those of Mr. and Mrs. Howard, Mr. Fisher, Mr. Williams and other Esquimalters, to all of whom the family feel under deep obligations. Governor Seymour witnessed the accident, and Mr. Maunsell, at His Excellency's request, remained on the spot during the evening and accompanied the remains to town. A. F. Pemberton, Esq., Coroner, with great promptitude, held an inquest over the body in the evening. Mr. F. Williams was chosen foreman of the jury, and the following evidence was adduced:

John A. Jones, sworn—At or about 16 minutes after six o'clock this evening I was, in company with Mr. Bushby, driving in a buggy from Victoria to Esquimalt; on turning the corner of the road opposite Mr. F. Williams' house in Esquimalt the deceased, John Trevisco Pidwell, who was on horseback, came in contact with the buggy, which caused him to be thrown from his horse; Mr. Bowman was driving about the middle of the road, which was level; deceased was riding very fast; there was sufficient room for deceased to pass the buggy; I am of opinion deceased could not have seen the buggy coming towards him; deceased was thrown underneath the horses attached to the buggy; I cannot say if the horses trod on deceased; Mr. Bowman was driving steadily and there was no want of caution on his part.

SCHOOL EXAMINATION—The Examination of the pupils of St. Ann's Convent School will take place to-day, commencing at nine a.m. The scholars of this institution are said to have made surprising progress during the past year, and the exercises will, no doubt, be of an exceedingly interesting character.

SALE OF COMMERCIAL HOTEL—All the furniture, piano and fixtures of the Commercial Hotel will be sold by auction to-morrow by Mr. Davies. The furniture is of the finest description and the catalogue comprises 300 lots. The hotel building and lease of lot will also be sold to the highest bidder. Terms cash. The premises will be thrown open for public inspection to-day.

EXPORTS—Mr Michael Tuite, of this city, shipped by the steamer Idaho from San Francisco yesterday 2500 pounds of red currants, 1500 of cherries, a fine lot of gooseberries, and 1200 pounds of halibut, packed in ice; and Mr. Heywood sent 1000 pounds of his celebrated sugar-cane to the Occidental Hotel, San Francisco, they being pronounced a superior article to any found on the Pacific Coast. Hurrah for Victoria!

CHRIST CHURCH PIC-NIC—Among the distinguished persons present at the Pic-Nic grounds on Saturday last was His Excellency the Governor, who was accompanied by his Private Secretary. In alluding to the prizes, we inadvertently stated that Mr. McCrea presented all the prizes, whereas it was Messrs. McCutchan & Callingham who gave the writing-desk and Mr. McCrea the pencils.

Medical.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

A compound remedy, in which we have labored to produce the most efficient ingredients that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Par Sarsaparilla, combined with other substances of still greater alternative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Stubious complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases, Ulcers, Pimples, Blotches, Tumors, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Arthritics, Rheumatic Disease, Eruption, Ulcers, the Double Rheum, Diphtheria, Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, Erysipelas, Rose, or St. Anthony's Fire, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expunction of them many rankling disorders are nipted in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and treacherous sores, through which the system strives to rid itself of corruption, if it can not do it by the removal of the natural channels of the body by an astringent medicine. Cleanses out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurity lurking through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this purgative of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Since the compound has deserved much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been congenitally deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or may thing else.

During years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been foisted upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no specific properties whatever. Hence, like the trifles of the world, they have followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is just despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary rule of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.

PREPARED BY DR. J. C. AYER & CO., LOWELL, MASS.

Price, $1 per Bottle; Six Bottles for $5.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral
has won for itself such a reputation for the cure of every variety of Throat and Lung Complaint, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recount the evidence of its virtues, whenever it has been employed. As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all it has ever been found to do.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
FOR THE CURE OF CONSTIVENESS, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Poultice, Ulcers, Arthritis, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruption, Ulcers, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Diuretic Pill, and for Purifying the Blood.

They are sugar-coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly, and they are the best aperient in the world for all the purposes of family physic.

Price 25 cents per Box; Five Boxes for $1.00.

Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, Surgeons, and eminent Physicians, have lost their names to certify the unparalleled usefulness of these remedies, but our space here will not permit the insertion of them. The Agents below named furnish gratis our AMERICAN ALMANAC in which they are given, with other descriptions of the above named remedies, and the directions which should be followed for their cure.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations they make more profit on. Demand AYER'S, and take no others. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

FRENCH MEDICINES IN VOGUE.

BY GRIMAUT & CO.,
Chemist to H. I. H. Prince Napoleon,
49 Rue Richelieu, Paris.

NO MORE COD LIVER O

GRIMAUT'S SYRUP OF IODIZED HORNSH RADISH.

The syrup is employed with the greatest success, in place of Cod Liver Oil, to which it is infinitely superior. It cures diseases of the chest, scrofula, lymphatic disorders, skin, stomach, liver, kidneys, and intestines. It is a powerful depurative, known. It never fatigues the stomach and bowels, and administered with the greatest effect, in reducing children subjects to various or obstruction of the gland. At last, it is very efficacious in the diseases of the skin.

NO MORE Consumption.

GRIMAUT'S SYRUP OF HYDROPHOSPHATE OF LIME.

The new medicine is a sovereign remedy in phthisis of the lungs, promptly removes all the most serious symptoms. The lung is relieved; the night sweats cease, and the patient rapidly recovers health.

NO More Poverty of the Blood and Pale Complexion.

DR. LERAY'S PHOSPHATE OF IRON.

This new "furnishing" medicine contains the elements of the blood and bone, and iron in a liquid state. It is different from all hitherto offered to the public, is liquid, and contains no tars, resins, &c. It cures chlorosis, &c. in the stomach, diarrhoea, dysentery, &c.

The remedy is the secretion of the body of Dr. Leray, and the Phosphate of Iron has the effects of delicate constitution suffering from anaemia, and other persons fatigued from over anxiety, nervous emotions, over work, general debility and pitiess of blood.

It is the only preparation which never causes constipation, and can be taken by the most delicate stomachs.

Nervous Headaches and Neuralgias.
Instantaneously cured by GRIMAUT'S BRAZILIAN GUARANA.

A vegetable substance, used from time immemorial in Brazil, and entirely inefficacious.

Better than Cupable

GRIMAUT'S CAPSULES AND LIQUID EXTRACT OF MATIC VEGETALIS.

Where all other preparations have failed, these capsules and liquid extract, produce rapid and extraordinary cure of severe and recent cases of privy to diseases. They are used in the hospital, and recommended by the physicians, and are greatly superior to all hitherto known mineral substances and cupable and cubes. The injection is used in recent and in more chronic cases.
